CHECK OUT THESE 5 ACHIEVABLE GOALS FOR 2024

Some goals aren't attainable or sustainable for your life. Instead of making lofty promises that are unachievable, start with modest changes that you can accomplish and build upon in years to come. Not sure where to start? Check out these five achievable goals.

1. Learn or resume a hobby

If you don't have a hobby or have let it go by the wayside, dedicate some time to doing something you enjoy. Hobbies aren't just activities we do for fun. They can have huge mental and physical health benefits.

According to VeryWell Mind, enjoyable activities can help you reduce stress, lower blood pressure and combat depression. You don't have to engage in your hobbies every day to reap the benefits. One study showed that engaging in a physical leisure activity for 20 minutes a week helped people feel less fatigued.

Whether you get back into knitting or playing guitar or pick up a new hobby like painting or ballroom dancing, you're carving out time for yourself that can take your mind off the stresses of everyday life.

2. Move your body

This year, make it a goal to get your body moving. That doesn't mean you have to exercise every day for hours at a time. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, adults need 150 minutes of moderate-intensity activity each week. That may sound like a lot, but it breaks down to 30 minutes a day, five days a week.

Take it slow if you're new to working out or it's been a while since you've exercised. You can even break up 30 minutes of daily activity into smaller chunks. For example, you can do 10 minutes of brisk walking or aerobic exercises three times a day or 15 minutes twice a day. By breaking up your movement goal into smaller chunks, you can naturally find breaks throughout your day to get moving.

3. Invest in your health

If you want to live a long healthy life, you need to invest in your health. Nicole Avena, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Neuroscience, Mount Sinai School of Medicine and Author of Why Diets Fail, says, "In addition to a healthy and balanced diet and getting an adequate amount of exercise, it's important to cover all your bases like adding daily vitamins to your health regimen. Each person's dietary needs will vary slightly. While most people can get enough from diet alone, others may need to take a supplement, and nowadays, there are many vitamin options for men and women of all ages."

To ensure that you receive essential nutrients, consider taking a daily multivitamin like vitafusion MultiVites which is an excellent source of 12 vitamins and minerals. Offering a selection of multivitamin gummies to support the consumer's unique needs, vitafusion is America's #1 adult gummy vitamin brand and the only gummy vitamin brand with a fusion of natural fruit flavors. To learn more, visit vitafusion.com.

4. Mindfulness

You've probably heard about mindfulness, but do you know what it is and its benefits? Simply put, mindfulness is being aware and fully present in your body, mind and environment. According to the National Institutes of Health, practicing mindfulness can have several positive impacts on your health and well-being, including reducing anxiety and depression, lowering blood pressure and improving sleep.

A popular way to practice mindfulness is meditation, but it's not the only way. You can practice breathing or grounding exercises, go on a walk or take stock of how your body is feeling in the present moment. Mindfulness practices can be short or long, but to start, you can carve out five minutes a day in the morning or at night to get in touch with your awareness.

5. Improve your finances

According to the American Psychological Association (APA), 72%

of adults report feeling stressed about money at least some of the time. While there isn't a one-size-fits-all plan for improving your financial well-being, there are simple ways to assess your finances and target areas for improvement.

For one month, track all your income and expenses. You can do this by using an expense sheet, or you can download an app to make things easier. Once you know where your money is coming from and where it's going, you can identify areas where you could be spending less and saving more and set financial goals.

Small changes can add up quickly and turn into life-long habits. Using these five tips, you can invest in yourself now and for years to come. -(BPT)

6 TIPS TO IMPROVE SLEEP QUALITY FOR OVERALL WELL-BEING

Despite a rising number of people searching for the term "sleep" in 2023, nearly 1 in 3 U.S. adults report not getting enough of it, per the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

As a foundation for overall well-being, getting quality sleep is key to achieving goals and being present in daily life. Without it, you're more likely to lack the stamina and energy to follow through on your ambitions.

To help people realize the foundational role sleep plays in everyday successes, Natrol – a leading sleep, mood and stress supplement brand based on Nielsen data – alongside Dr. Jess Andrade are working together to help people improve their sleep quality and habits so they can conquer their wellness goals this year and beyond.

"From consistent exercise to eating healthy and even daily journaling, it may seem like all your priorities are in order, but without sleep, you won't be able to reap the full benefits of your hard work," Andrade said. "Often overlooked, getting quality sleep is a fundamental piece to improving overall wellness and it doesn't have to be complicated. Creating small, achievable changes in our daily sleep routines can lead to long-lasting lifestyle habits for the better."

Consider these tips from Andrade to help improve your sleep quality so you can achieve your goals.

1. Prioritize Movement and Light Exposure in the Morning

Whether you're a yogi or prefer a simple stretch when your feet hit the floor, movement and light during the day can help stimulate quality sleep later that night.

2. Understand Sleep Gains are Just as if Not More Important Than Gym Gains

If you're focusing on fitness goals, you'll need adequate sleep to see successful results. If you're a morning workout warrior, schedule earlier bedtimes to ensure you get the recommended 7-8 hours of sleep. For evening workouts, aim to end your sweat session as early in the evening as possible; too much physical activity before bed can keep you up at night.

3. Make Your Bedroom a Sanctuary

Make your bedroom a sleep sanctuary. Keep the room dark, noise-free and comfortable with the thermostat set at 65-67 F for better sleep conditions.

4. Set Nightly Rituals to Unwind

Create nightly rituals that activate circadian rhythms and allow your body to unwind. Consider activities that relax you the most, like taking a bath, reading a book, journaling or sipping decaffeinated nighttime tea.

5. Try Incorporating a Drug-Free Sleep Aid

If you follow good bedtime habits but still occasionally struggle to fall or stay asleep, try a low-milligram melatonin supplement, like those from Natrol, that are designed to help you get a good night's sleep so you wake up refreshed and ready to conquer your goals.†

6. Follow the 10-3-2-1-0 method

To help you fall asleep and wake up feeling revitalized, Andrade recommends the 10-3-2-1-0 method: Decrease caffeine intake at least 10 hours before bed. Avoid eating bothersome foods 3 hours prior to heading to off to sleep. Engage in relaxing activities like reading at the 2-hour mark and cut out screentime with 1 hour to spare. Ultimately, these habits can lead to zero times hitting snooze the next morning.

THE 39TH ANNUAL MADE IN CALIFORNIA JURIED EXHIBITION AT THE BREA GALLERY

Honoring contemporary creative movements throughout the state, the Brea Gallery is proud to present the 39th annual Made in California exhibition from April 27th through June 23rd, 2024.

For nearly four decades, this annual juried exhibit features artwork from an extensive variety of mediums and explores creative movements happening in California.

Made in California showcases artists in all stages of their careers and offers them a chance to compete for a number of awards, including the coveted solo show opportunity. A free opening reception for Made in California, will take place on Saturday, April 27th from 5 - 7 p.m. with artists, food, and live music.

This year's exhibition was juried by Dr. Megan Debin, an art history professor and supporter of the Brea Gallery responded to the call for art saying, "I am honored to be participating as a juror and impressed by the caliber of work being created by artists in California."

Juror Dr. Debin and a panel comprised of Brea Gallery Director Katie Chidester, and Curatorial Staff selected over 100 pieces of art for the exhibition. Over $4,000 in cash prizes for awards including First, Second, Third Place, Juror's Choice, Staff Picks and more will be handed out during the exhibition and guests are given the opportunity City of awarding a lucky artist the title of "Popular Choice" with a prize of $100.

"Each year this exhibition grows larger and more competitive – it remains the single biggest source of future partnerships for the Gallery, we meet so many new people and are introduced to a number of new and emerging artists."

Unique to typical juried exhibitions, Made in California also includes a highly coveted Solo Show opportunity. Multidisciplinary artist Karima Cammell is this year's recipient of this valuable opportunity with her show, "The Light Gets In". Dr. Debin remarks about the solo show selection, "What do you expect from an art historian?"

Obviously, I appreciate the art historical references. I am fascinated by the variety of materials - from stained glass to textiles - and techniques like egg tempera painting."

Including paintings, stained glass, and tapestries, the solo exhibition celebrates our times with a cathedral-style twist. Cammell notes, "The collection reflects modern anxieties, with images of wealth disparity, extinction fears, and isolation while exploring the paradox of tragedy and beauty." Dr. Debin adds "The artist uses natural pigments and traditional, historic techniques to create fantastical worlds populated by mystical creatures and natural beauty that anyone can appreciate. Her work examines themes of courage, perseverance, and respect for the natural world, important reminders for modern existence."

Additionally, the gallery will be featuring a select number of artists from the show to present Instagram takeovers, behind-the-scenes blog posts, and the popular FreshAIR {Artist in Residence} program throughout the run of the exhibition.

'ARTS AND ARCHITECTURE' MAGAZINE'S HISTORIC HOME DESIGNS

Case Study House #18 – Modern-style architecture was very popular in the US and Europe between the 1930s and '60s, marked by a stark functional style, geometric lines, and steel-and-glass construction. Integration with the natural landscape is another common feature. Modernism was both an architectural movement and a social movement, which posited that buildings could be the answer to some deep-rooted social inequalities. It was inspired by the German Bauhaus school, which emphasized the standardized construction of apartments for factory workers. When the Nazis came to power, they shut down the school, and Bauhaus-founder Walter Gropius fled to the US, where he taught at Harvard and influenced the rise of the modernist movement. The American architect Frank Lloyd Wright, who called his style "Usonian" - a combination of USA, "utopian" and "organic social order" - was another strong influence. With the end of World War II, a need for homes for returning soldiers led to an explosion of modern architecture, especially in California.

Starting in 1945, Arts and Architecture magazine sponsored some of the modern movement's most famous architects, including Richard Neutra, A. Quincy Jones and Pierre Koenig, to create a series of efficient houses that could be easily replicated for the postwar housing boom. The homes were featured in the magazine in an iconic series of black-and-white photos taken by photographer Julius Shulman. Four of these homes: Case Studies #8, #9, #18, and #20 sit together on a bluff in the Pacific Palisades. Case Study #18, listed on the National Register of Historic Places, is now for sale. The unique piece of architectural history, designed by Rodney Walker, is listed at $8.9 million.

The beautifully maintained, two-bedroom, two-and-a-half-bath home overlooks the Pacific Ocean. Walls of glass offer big ocean views, and the stunning Will Rogers State Beach is only a two-minute walk away. Tall ceilings and an open floor plan in the dining/living areas provide airy, light-filled spaces and a quintessentially modern aesthetic. The ocean-view bedrooms are tranquil sanctuaries. The indoor-outdoor garden is a unique Rodney Walker touch. The oversize lot includes lush lawns, ocean-facing patios, and a sheltered play area surrounded by mature trees. The sale also includes plans for a second home, designed by Architectural Digest 100 starchitect Tom Kundig.

The Pacific Palisades is an upscale LA neighborhood known for its Mediterranean climate, hilly topography, numerous hiking trails, excellent surf beaches, and iconic modern homes. Next door to bustling Santa Monica, it is a close-knit community with a small-town feel. Options for entertainment include the original Getty Villa, the Riviera Country Club, and Temescal Gateway Park. It is set apart from the hustle and bustle of the city but offers convenient freeway access to the Westside, Downtown LA, and Hollywood. Due to its lack of tourists, Pacific Palisades is a sought-after zip code for celebrities seeking tranquility. Numerous A-listers including Bradley Cooper, Adam Sandler, Anthony Hopkins and NBA All-Star Kawhi Leonard live in the neighborhood.

Taste of Wine & Food

By Frank Mangio & Rico Cassoni

FAMILY WINEMAKERS OF CALIFORNIA ANNUAL TASTING SHOWCASE AT DEL MAR FAIRGROUNDS

Adam (left) and Cameron Arealos, owners Windrun Wine Co. Adam is also the winemaker assisted by renowned Ken Brown.

Story and photos by Rico Cassoni. Family Winemakers of California, described as an "organization that reflects the small producer's point of view," has been the voice for small, family wineries for 30 years, offering opportunities to engage with winemakers and reps. The Annual Tasting Showcase at Del Mar Fairgrounds serves as a platform for both industry professionals and consumers to discover these wineries.

A good example of meeting with representatives is when Frank and I met Windrun Winery's husband and wife owner team, Adam and Cameron Arealos. The Arealos's purchased the nine-year-old Santa Rita Hills winery in 2019. Adam is the winemaker and is assisted by renowned winemaker Ken Brown. Every limited-production bottling represents hand chosen grapes from select vineyards of Santa Barbara County, most notably the Sta. Rita Hills AVA. Adam and Cameron shared their line up with us that consisted of a 2021 Sta. Rita Hills Chardonnay that was crisp with 50% stainless steel and 50% new French oak fermentation. They were also pouring their 2020 Sta. Rita Hills Grenache (100%), 2019 and 2020 Sta. Rita Hills Pinot Noirs, 2019 Thompson Syrah sourced from Alisos, and their 2020 Sta. Hills Rose. These were great valued wines that are worth trying.

We started the show visiting the Cass Winery booth. Co-owner Ted Plemons was pouring a full line up of wines that exceeded the generous listing advertised. Cass Winery is known for their Rhone style and Bordeaux wines made from estate fruit under the leadership of winemaker Sterling Kragten. They pattern themselves as a French style estate - I love their tagline, "French DNA + Paso Personality." The full Cass line up included: 2023 Viognier, 2023 Marsanne, 2023 Oasis Rose, 2022 Grenache, 2021 Rockin' One Red, 2020 Damas Noir, 2021 Mourvedre, 2020 Backbone Syrah, Vintage Ted, and Ted spoiled a few guests with a bottle of 2019 Reserve Bordeaux. Each year the Reserve Bordeaux is a collection of the best fruit grown on the ranch. The 2019 was beyond delicious with a full-bodied palate, good acidity, and smooth, well integrated tannins. The blend was Cab Sauv (83%) dominate with 8% Petit Verdot, 6% Syrah, and 3% Malbec components and aged for 22 months in new French oak.

Oceanside's Coomber Craft Wines well represented San Diego's North County. We met with owners Maureen and Skip Coomber, also the winemaker, while enjoying two terrific wines. The first was their 2021 Private Reserve Chardonnay sourced from Sta. Rita Hills. The second was 2013 Private Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon sourced from Napa Valley, specifically Rutherford. I was glad to hear that their Oceanside location is pumping out music 7 days a week. For music fans, check out their calendar and stop by for great music, delicious wines, and food from local restaurants. Additionally, the Coomers are making progress on their new Vista Tasting Room set to open this summer.

Temecula was also well represented. There was a whole section at the show with over 10 Temecula wineries. We visited one of my favorites at the show, Falkner Winery. We caught up with owners, Ray and Loretta Falkner, along with winemaker Duncan Williams. For Viognier lovers, I recommend Falkner's Viognier. Also included in their tasting offering was their 2022 Sauvignon Blanc, 2021 Syrah, and one of my fav Falkner wines, their Amante Super Tuscan Style wine. For Amante, Williams blends Sangiovese with Merlot, Cab Sauv, and Cab Franc. The palate has black cherry with strawberry notes and earthy undertones on the finish. When visiting Temecula, Falkner Winery's Pinnacle Restaurant should be at the top of your list for lunch or dinner. While in the Temecula section, we also visited the Doffo and Cougar tables. Perhaps one of my best tastings representing Temecula was not the wine, but Gina LaMora's Grazing Theory Lavish Charcuterie. The meats and cheeses served by Gina and co-worker Karyn were heavenly, especially when topped with raw honeycomb and paired with Cougar Wines.

Finally, I must mention a few upper tier wines I tasted at the Stonestreet Estate Vineyards table. Stonestreet from Alexander Valley is part of the Jackson Family Wines portfolio and is one of the most extensive mountain estates in the world. Only 900 acres of the total 5,000 acres are planted. Cory Rowin, Jackson Family Wines, District Manager, and Chris Cooke, Regal Wine Co., District Manager were pouring 2019 Chardonnay grown at 1,800 feet and 2018 Cabernet Sauvignon with fruit grown at 2,400 feet down to 800 feet.

Another honorable mention was Ehret Family Winery from Knights Valley. Jason Robinson, Director of Sales, was pouring three great Cabs that included their 2019 Cab blend, 2019 Bella's Cab Sauv that was 97% Cab with a splash of Merlot (3%), and their 2019 Hillside Reserve Cab that was 100% Cab Sauv. Of the three, the Bella was a great value at $85. The Cab is $75 and the Reserve, $125.

CHILDHELP'S 38TH ANNUAL FASHION SHOW & LUNCHEON: A DAY OF GLAMOUR, COMPASSION, AND CULINARY DELIGHTS

Childhelp's 38th annual "For the Love of a Child" Fashion Show and Luncheon at the prestigious Balboa Bay Club epitomized a day of elegance, compassion, and unwavering support for abused and neglected children. Sponsored by South Coast Plaza, this event stood as a testament to the power of community coming together for a noble cause.

Over 250 guests attended, and as they arrived at the Balboa Bay Resort, they were greeted with a palpable sense of anticipation, knowing that they were partaking in a significant event to make a difference in the lives of vulnerable children. The meticulously organized affair, spearheaded by Co-Chairs Julie Adams, Patricia Ford, Kelly Haugen, and Honorary Chair Patti Edwards, promised a day filled with glamour and purpose.

The generosity of esteemed donors was paramount to the success of the event. From the Madeline & Marvin Gussman Family Foundation, who graced them as the Stardust Donor, to Diamond Donors Terry and George Schreyer, and Emerald Donors Olivia Abel, The Crean Foundation, Patti and Jim Edwards, and Nancy and Art Youngman, each contribution reaffirmed the collective commitment to Childhelp's mission.

As guests took their seats amidst the elegantly adorned tables, they were greeted by the tantalizing sight of beautifully wrapped chocolates from Laderach Chocolatier, each a work of art. Complementing the chocolates were the stylish totes provided by South Coast Plaza, adding a touch of glamour to the tablescape and serving as tangible reminders of the day's significance.

Highlighting the day's festivities was the presentation of the Inspirational Award to Ale Boggiano and Jen Lilley, the visionary founders of "Christmas is Not Cancelled." Their innovative approach to supporting children in need resonated deeply with all attendees, underscoring the profound impact that individual acts of kindness can have on the lives of others.

The event's allure extended beyond its philanthropic endeavors, with an array of enticing raffle items generously donated by South Coast Plaza stores, attendees had the opportunity to vie for coveted prizes, including luxury goods from renowned brands such as Bally, Buccellati, Roger Vivier, and Monique Lhuillier and a getaway at Balboa Bay Resort. The Grand Prize was a $2500 shopping spree at South Coast Plaza, with an ACCESS card and a one-year Valet Parking pass; the VIP Donor prize was a gorgeous cream YSL Handbag.

The pièce de résistance of the day was undoubtedly the captivating fashion show, showcasing the latest trends from top designers at South Coast Plaza. From the timeless elegance of Bally and Lanvin to the contemporary allure of Max Mara and Missoni, the runway came alive with a kaleidoscope of colors, textures, and styles. Guests were treated to a visual feast courtesy of the incredibly talented Shannon Davidson and her production team, who orchestrated a seamless presentation of spring's most coveted looks.

Following the fashion show, attendees indulged in a sumptuous three-course lunch, meticulously curated to tantalize the taste buds. The menu featured an exquisite filet mignon/seabass duet, expertly prepared to satisfy even the most discerning palates.

None of this would have been possible without the dedication of their volunteers and Event Committee Members, whose unwavering commitment ensured the event's flawless execution. From coordinating logistics to securing sponsorships and managing guest relations, their tireless efforts were instrumental in bringing the vision of "For the Love of a Child" to fruition.

As the day drew to a close and guests bid farewell to the Balboa Bay Club, they did so with a sense of fulfillment, knowing that their collective contributions would leave a lasting impact on the lives of vulnerable children. Childhelp remains steadfast in its mission to protect and nurture those in need, and events like this serve as a powerful reminder of the transformative power of community coming together for a common purpose. Childhelp is proud to report that for each dollar expended, 85 cents is invested into serving the children in need of their program services, which include three Group Homes in Costa Mesa and the Childhelp Merv Griffin Village in Beaumont, California. Directory Advertising Hits the Jackpot for Small Business with a Limited Ad Budget $49.95

"I'm not a big business, but I know that you have to advertise someplace and these little ads don't cost too much so I figure if you expect to get any new customers, I gave the little 'directory' ads in the newspaper a try. Nothing happened for the first week, not even a phone call. Then Boom! comes three new customers. Paid for my little ads and a nice profit. I'd say I hit the jackpot. Sign me up for another week newspaper ladies!"

The above story may not be exciting but is typical of advertisers who are shopping for advertising that is affordable but gives them something back for their money. Here's another:

As a Woman Who Owns A Small Business These Newspaper Directory Ads are a Great Value

Looking for the Penny Saver in all the Wrong Places

"I Used to get pretty good results from the Penny Saver, but when the Penny Saver closed up, I found this newspaper's little directory ads are even cheaper and work just about as good. Usually get two or three calls a month and most of them wind up being my customers. My bookkeeper says your directory ads work pretty good for the money"

Newspaper Directory Ads Worked Just Fine, Cost Less than Half!- Nice!

" We tried some slick magazine ads that had beautiful pictures on the cover and they worked real good for a while but they were costing us an arm and a leg so we tried these little directory ads in your newspaper .The ads are smaller, but cost way less than half of what we were paying the magazines and the newspaper directory ads seem to work about as well. We are glad we tried them. They are a pretty good deal for the low price."
